

MBA and SAA Manual

The MBA and the SAA are very similar. The MBA is a mono block amplifier and whereas the SAA is a stereo amplifier. To use the amplifier, plug in your RCA stereo inputs into the SAA and hook up speakers to the speaker connectors at the other hand of the SAA. Plug the SAA into a wall via its power supply. To use the MBA, you do the same as the SAA, except the MBA only has one input. You are now ready to listen to the music or any other audio source through your MBA or SAA amplifier.
